THESE ARE OUR PARTNERS IN PRENZLAUER BERG:

DearGoods clothing store

♥ The creators of this sustainable clothing store love what they do and are always on the lookout for the latest trends and innovations that make the world a little more beautiful and fairer. DearGoods only sells products that come from fair production and fair trade. The team also goes one step further, because animal welfare and environmental protection are also very close to DearGoods' heart.

Therefore, clothing, accessories, and bags sold at DearGoods are as ecological as possible, vegan, and above all fair. The 3 hearts in the logo symbolise this – the love for animals, people, and the environment.

SauberKunst soap manufacturer

♥ SauberKunst produces vegan, palm oil-free soaps with a focus on high-quality ingredients and handmade products that are a pleasure for the eyes and skin. Today, the product range includes not only vegan soaps, but also vegan cosmetics such as SheaMousse and CremeDeo, as well as solid shampoos – all packaged plastic-free, of course.

The vegan cheese manufactory from Veganz

♥ The vegan cheese manufactory produces the new organic Veganz Cashewbert, a clean-label alternative for cashew-based Camembert. In-house production started at the end of September 2020 in Berlin Prenzlauer Berg – right next to the first Veganz supermarket. The handmade cheese alternative with vegan starter cultures scores with a low carbon footprint and creates about 2/3 less CO₂ emissions per 175-gram package compared to its conventional counterpart.

The manufactory produces 10,000 cashew cheese wheels by hand every week. Demand from retailers is already significantly higher and a further production facility is being planned. Additional varieties of vegan cheese specialties will then be produced there, such as a purely plant-based blue cheese, as well as vegan fish and meat alternatives.
